

AMERISTAR®

Strong. Safe. Secure.

Your Gate Safety Reminders.

- Always mount latches, with release mechanisms, at least 48" above ground level. 54" is recommended with children under five years of age.
- The best child-resistant latches are mounted out of reach of small children and are key lockable.
- Latches should not be able to be locked in the open position nor be opened using any utensil or tool such as pencils, screwdrivers, etc.
- When installing latches, make sure the gates open away from the hazard.
- Latches should be self-latching and should not be able to be shaken, pulled or jolted open.
- The best safety gate hinges are self-closing and tension adjustable.
- Safety gate hinges should be constructed of materials that prevent sagging, wearing, rusting and binding.
